WHAT WILL THEY DO?

Councilmen Will Vote on the Eastman Springs Street Railway Franchise Tonight.

MEASURE MAY BE DEFEATED.

This is the Opinion of Men Who Have Talked With the Aldermen Who Oppose It.

The common council tonight will demonstrate that its members are men who believe in the advancement of the city commercially or that it has in its organization members who are willing to be dictated to by three or four citizens. It will either act as to bring upon it the benediction of a pleased people or it will indicate that it is justly deserving of the criticism of an injured populace. The council can show tonight by passing the street railway ordinance that the interests of the city and a wonderful majority of its residents are believed to be paramount to the selfish desires of a few.

Business men today have neglected their work to discuss the probable action of the city council in the consideration of the franchise for a street railway to Eastman Springs. The opposition to the measure is so weak that but few words have been spoken against it, but some people predict that those few words will be all powerful when the aldermen are called to vote.

Those in closest communication with the councilmen declare that Ward, Cole and E. W. Brown, who voted against the franchise before, are firm as the rock of Gibraltar and will fight the measure with all the energy at their command. In this case defeat is certain and unless the builders of the road, Seely McCord and O. Westcott, can be induced to make a compromise the opportunity to secure a car line to Eastman Springs will be ignored. The vote of six aldermen are necessary and the likelihood of securing it is pathetically slim.

From expressions repeatedly made by the gentlemen who ask for the franchise, there is no hope of their accepting any other route than that proposed in the original franchise. They assert that the operation of the road over any other line could not be made profitable, and that if the use of Water street is denied them they will abandon the project entirely.

If it is determined that the opposition against the franchise in the council has no disposition to weaken an earnest endeavor will be made by the citizens to induce McCord and Westcott to accept some other route.

Mr. McCord was seen this afternoon and declared the road would not be built if the use of Water street between Main and Territorial was denied him. Mr. Westcott feels the same way.

ST JOSEPH.

Miller & Hammon, the fashionable St. Joseph milliners, close their spring opening today. They are showing some beautiful designs in ladies' headwear and their apartments in Martin's Palace of Trade have been crowded with customers. A magnificent display of flowers and ribbons is in evidence.

H. Van Ranken left today for Traverse City.

The Pingree Rifles will meet for a skirmish drill tonight on the drill grounds at the south end of the Lake Front boulevard.

The Lincoln Circle of G. A. R. ladies met last night and adopted a new name, calling themselves the Logan Circle. Several new members were received.

Arthur Chapman was acquitted of the charge of having committed an assault upon Herman Gersonde. The case was heard before Justice Baldrey yesterday.

FASCINATING FANCHON.

She Won the Plaudits of Many Palms Last Night.

Amateur talent from the Benton Harbor college—the Junior class—presented "Fanchon, the Cricket," a second time last night in Conkey's opera house. They played to a smaller audience than they were greeted with on the occasion of their initial appearance, but what last night's audience lacked in numbers it made up in warmth and appreciation and the company of local actors gathered as much inspiration from the 200 persons who faced the stage of the theatre last night as a sea of colder faces could have produced.

"The Cricket," a difficult role, full of perplexing lines, was again assumed by Miss Sophie Zebell. She portrayed the life of the secluded, uncouth but honest Fanchon with wonderful accuracy. Indeed the one who successfully carries this role must needs act a dual part, and if she presents the Fanchon who knew no other guiding hand than that of old Fader—the Fanchon who was guileless and in rags with the same ease that she represents the Fanchon who pleads with the rich farmer, Father Barbanks, for a reconciliation over the attachment between herself and Laundry, she is clever. Miss Zebell was applauded more frequently and with greater vigor in the latter half of the play, indicating her audience to be better satisfied with her as a refined lady than as a simpering maiden.

Laundry, in love with Fanchon, the part ranking next in importance to that of Fanchon, was the role in which Roscoe House appeared. Had he thrown more feeling and enthusiasm into his attitude in his love making scenes it would have been truer to the reality. The author possibly intends to give Laundry dignity by enforcing a well-studied reserve in his demeanor while baring his heart to "The Cricket," in which case Mr. House was not at fault.

The other characters, all of whom were well represented follow: "Father Barbanks," Will H. Woodley; "Didler," George Edgumbe; "Etienne," Will Moore; "Pierre," Will H. Woodley; "Callu," John Sterling; "Old Fader," Cynthia Cary; "Mother Barbanks," Verma Barbanks; "Madelon," Eleanor Townsend; "Marlette," Gertha Weekler; "Susette," Verma Barbanks; "Annette," Cynthia Cary; "Father Callard," John Sterling.

The drama was preceded by the comic farce, "The Bicyclists," which was greatly enjoyed.

THEY MAKE A REQUEST

Aldermen Ward and E. W. Brown Are Appealed to by Their Constituents.

PETITION BEING CIRCULATED

Asking Them to Vote for the Eastman Springs Street Railway Franchise.

A petition with the signatures of many of the constituents of Aldermen Ward and E. Brown, representatives of the third ward, will be used as an inducement to induce these officials to vote in favor of the street railway franchise at the council meeting tonight.

The petition requests them to support the measure. What effect it will have remains to be seen.

THEIR COFFINS READY.

Gov. Pingree Proposed to Put Senators in Their Wooden Overcoats.

LANSING, April 10.—Governor Pingree says that he wants to give the house a talking to for not passing his railroad bills. "How about the senators?" was asked.

"Oh, hades, I'm going to employ detectives and put them on the track of some of the senators. I'll have half a dozen senators in jail before the season closes. Just as like as not, and I'll have some more of them in collars. I'm going to bring a lot of collars up from Detroit one of these days. The plates will be engraved on all of them."

"You'll need about 100 coffins," remarked Senator Coleman.

"Well, we'll have the coffins all ready just the same and plenty of 'em," rejoined the governor with a scowl.

VERDICT OF SIX CENTS.

Rendered By Direction of Judge Coolidge Yesterday.

Judge Coolidge directed the jury in the case of Sylvester Parks against W. R. Kerstetter to render a verdict of six cents for the plaintiff. The order was made on motion of James O'Hara, attorney for Parks.

Yesterday afternoon the trial of the attachment suit brought by John W. Weaver against Francis W. Cuno was begun. The proofs were closed and the case will be concluded next Monday when court reconvenes with the arguments of the counsel.

Judge Coolidge made the following assignment of cases for next week: Monday—People vs. Elijah Romaine, people vs. Viola Smith, Edward Beckman vs. George B. Thayer et al, Emma L. Colby vs. Emma Portman, Eben Harris vs. William A. Robe.

Tuesday—William G. Livingston vs. Walter T. Bradford, Reuben, D. Parker vs. Oliver Gordon, Emelius Wolcott vs. Leopold P. Hesen, Rosilla Martin vs. Charles Fitzpatrick et al, Huber Manufacturing Company vs. Charles W. Moore.

FOR WOMEN ONLY.

Mrs. Dr. Clayton Delivered Some Plain Truths Last Night.

Mrs. Dr. Clayton spoke to a congregation of ladies in the Methodist church last evening on the sacred duties of motherhood and illustrated in a beautiful manner by means of a rose, how a mother can impart to the child the lessons of parentage.

Mrs. Clayton believes that sin and misery is due to disease and to no other cause and that until men and women become perfectly healthy, prisons, almshouses, reform schools and asylums will be a necessity and that social and economic evils will prevail and that woman, through lack of education of their health and a knowledge of hereditary and prenatal influence, are to a greater or less extent responsible for these evils. The organization of literary clubs is of much less importance than the organization of clubs to teach woman to become scientific and healthful mothers.

As woman was the latest conception of the infinite she has a greater responsibility and the greater enfranchisement of woman will continue to uplift and elevate the race because subervient as well as physically weak woman cannot be the mothers of great men and great women and until we have ideal people we cannot have ideal marriages and however much and superior is the education which the child receives after birth it is of little avail without the best hereditary and prenatal influences. That perfect physical health will produce a race of Gods has been so perfectly and scientifically demonstrated by students of anthropology as to have become an axiomatic truth.

By an illustration with flowers the similarity between the sexual nature of plant life and that of the human being was shown. The greatest difference being that flowers loam only perfect unions, unions which are heaven made, therefore, there are no divorces among the plant life.

Mrs. Clayton is a lady of more than average intelligence. She understands her subject thoroughly and presents it in a very instructive and entertaining manner. From an educational standpoint the lecture was of the greatest value to those who attended.

AN INSANE ASYLUM.

Some of the Y. M. C. A. Senators Want One Established.

A storm occurred in the Y. M. C. A. senate last night when Senator Allison (J. S. Bailey) introduced a bill for the establishment of an asylum for insane senators. Some of the statesmen constituted the act as personally assailing them and in language ranking with speech they denounced the measure, declaring it was a travesty which ought not to be allowed in a body of men who are supposed to have some dignity. The opposition to the bill was represented by Senators White (W. Cameron) and Vest (O'Hara).

After a prolonged discussion a vote on the bill was taken which resulted in its passage. Senators White, Vest, Stewart, Curry, and Cullum (Plummer) were arrayed on the negative side. The bill other than providing for establishment and maintenance of an insane asylum grants the president the power to determine who of the senators are to become inmates of the institution.

Senator Vest championed the introduction of a bill to increase the salary of the president and vice president, to double the amount these officials are now receiving.

Senator Allen (Crago) secured the consent of the senate to a revision of the Dingley bill by a committee of five senators. Senator White argued that such a proceeding was a waste of time; that the Dingley bill had not thoroughly been discussed and before its contents were fully known a revision could not be made with any degree of intelligence.

A vote of thanks was extended to Senator White (Cameron) on motion of Senator Hanna (Fidicous) for the valuable service he had rendered in the senate, which should receive recognition at that time in view of his contemplated departure. Senator White responded to the courtesy in a very graceful speech.

The prohibition bill was voted upon and carried.

It knocks a cold in one night. Ask for Nox-a-Kold at Bird's drug store. Satisfaction guaranteed. Price 25 cents.

The Third City.

When the New Railroads are Finished Benton Harbor Will Be Michigan's Third City as Regards Railroad Importance.

IN NUMBER OF ROADS SURPASSED ONLY BY DETROIT.

The Three New Railroads Will Greatly Change
the Appearance of Benton Harbor on Future Maps of the State.

Within the next year Benton Harbor will be the third city in Michigan
in regard to railroad importance, unless all the indications for new railroads fall to materialize. Counting the Vandalia, which runs within half a mile of Benton Harbor, this city has
now three railroads in operation, viz.,
the Chicago & West Michigan, the Big Four and the Vandalia, or Pennsylvania, three of the most important railroad systems which run through Michigan.

In addition to these three roads, two more roads are in the course of construction, the St. Joseph Valley, a part of the Baltimore & Ohio system, and the Benton Harbor electric, a road which

which will go under some of the principal streets of the city. Railroads only build tunnels to enter cities where real estate is valuable and they put money in tunnels in only such towns as have a future. For instance, the New York Central and the New Haven &
Hartford enter New York City through a tunnel under Central park; the Pennsylvania railroad runs under Baltimore the entire distance of the corporation; St. Louis is entered by a tunnel.
Benton Harbor will be the only Michigan city which has a railroad running
many feet beneath its streets.

The tunnel road though using electricity will have powerful motors
which will draw twenty or thirty standard freight cars loaded. The tunnel will be large enough to accommodate any palace or circus car run on any road. It is not likely to be a double

The Figures.

- 8 Railroads. _____ Detroit.

*Two of the six roads are very unimportant.

will operate 100 miles of track with electricity for its motive power. The city is assured of and practically has five railroads, and all the arrangements are made for the extension of the Chicago, Kalamazoo & Saginaw
from Kalamazoo to this city. With five railroads Benton Harbor will be the fourth greatest railroad center in the state of Michigan and with the six roads which are assured Benton Harbor will take third place in the railroad cities of the state if not second, as
the railroads here would be equal in number and importance to those in Grand Rapids. The population of the city is certain to keep pace with the roads and in a few years Benton Harbor will be the third city of importance in all lines in the state.

Detroit has eight railroads, Grand Rapids and Saginaw six. Two of the roads that enter Saginaw are of very little if any importance. They are lumber roads running through a region
where the lumber has been cut off and only pine stumps remain. They are about equal in importance to a road
running from Benton Harbor to Ox Creek.

THE NEW RAILROADS.

The St. Joseph Valley.

The St. Joseph Valley, now known as the Milwaukee, Benton Harbor &
Columbus, was begun last fall and work
has been progressing rapidly all winter.
The greater part of the road from Buchanan to this city has been completed,
and from Buchanan the road will extend south through South Bend and tap the Baltimore & Ohio road at Napanee. This road will be of great importance in the way of carrying freight
and will be a great factor in the development of manufacturing industries
here. The road will do a large passenger business as probably many of its
through passengers will be carried to Chicago via Benton Harbor and boat.

THE TUNNEL ROAD.

The Benton Harbor Electric Will Have Many Terminals.

The Benton Harbor Electric railroad
will operate 100 miles of track and will form a system which in the language
of railroad "will grow."

The original road will extend from Benton Harbor to Dowagiac, with spurs
to Decatur, Cassopolis and one going through Paw Paw to Allegan. As THE NEWS sees it this, of the three new railroads to be built this one will be of the greatest benefit to local merchants. The fare on the road will be so cheap and the trains will stop almost anywhere for passengers, so that a large territory of rich country will make Benton Harbor its chief center of trade. It will be as good as adding several hundred families to the population of the city.

The one point above others that has enlisted many to support this road is the tunnel scheme in connection. The road will enter the city through a brick lined tunnel a quarter of a mile long track, however. When the Grand trunk tunnel was built under the St.

Clair river at Port Huron the railroad officials thought that some day they might require a double track and had
the engineers estimate the difference in the cost. The estimate was a surprise. It showed that two single track tunnels could be built for about two-thirds of the cost of one large enough
for a double track.

THE C. K. & S. ROAD.

A Road Which Senator Brice May
Some Day Control.

The Chicago, Kalamazoo & Saginaw,
the latest railroad possibility which seems assured for Benton Harbor, will
in the end give to this city that which it has long desired—a direct line from here to Toledo and the east.

The road is now 45 miles long and extends from Kalamazoo northwestward to Hastings and from Hastings
to a jumping off place called Woodbury. The road never paid. Kalamazoo blew in $100,000 in a bonus to get the road and other towns along the line put up $100,000 more. The road
cost $450,000 and is bonded for $250,000.
By building the road to Benton Harbor
it would make a system of value and importance to the state. The Chicago,
Jackson & Mackinaw or Kalamazoo
would furnish Benton Harbor a short line to Toledo. The Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinaw is owned or controlled
by ex-Senator Brice and when the C.
K. & S. is extended to this city it will only be a question of a short time until
Mr. Brice will gobble it up and consolidate it with his 2,500 miles of track.
A road to the east is what Benton
Harbor has been dreaming of for years
and this road will fill the bill exactly.
If Uncle Jimmy Moore and his associates fail to build this extension there will be an independent road from here

to Kalamazoo which the C. K. & S. & M.
people will have a hand in building.

FASHION'S FANCIES.

Costumes Both Elaborate and Severe.
The Tailor Made Gown.

Nearly all ladies may be suited by the present mode, there is so much variety afforded. Every woman may choose what best becomes her and belongs most appropriately to her condition of life without fear of seeming out of date. Princess gowns are in fashion, for instance, but not exclusively so, and nobody is required to wear them under penalty of appearing odd. Plain and elaborate gowns are in vogue simultaneously. There are simple jackets and others covered with embroidery
and braiding, capes of varied lengths and

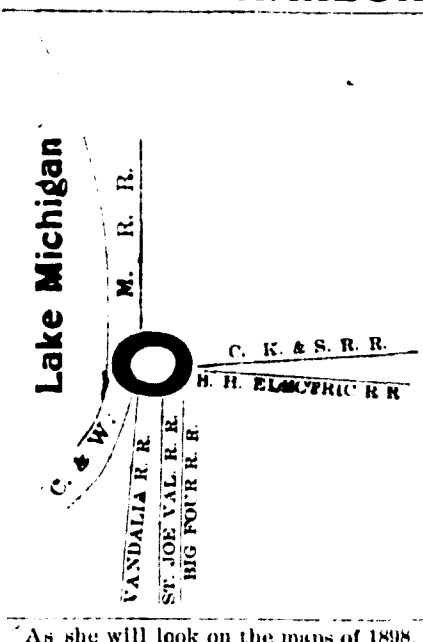

SPRING COSTUME.

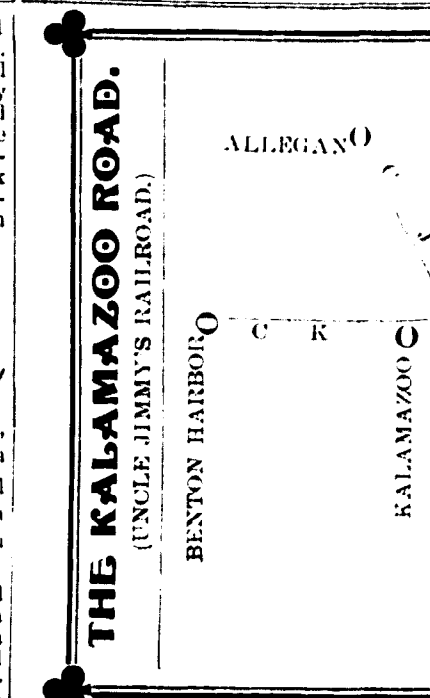

adornments, long riding coats of elegant simplicity—in fact, fashion is now nearly all embracing and so catholic that all tastes may be more or less suited.

The tailor made gown, like death, has all seasons for its own and is always in the mode. But each season sees it modified and changed more or less, although it always retains its characteristic plainness.
It is adorned with straight or sinuous
stitching, plaits, straps, tabs, galloon,

tones of blue, green and violet are also seen, although the neutral tints predominate. Covert cloth in various shades of gray, beige, tan and brown is one of the very best, neatest and most serviceable
materials for these costumes.
Black embroideries on white and all
light tones, whether the ground material
be cloth or silk, are increasingly employed
for revers, plaques, vests and similar accessories. There are also openwork goods
of black silk, somewhat like all over embroidery or lace, which are used over colored goods very effectively.
Today's sketch shows a spring costume
having a basal brown skirt of veiling,
which is trimmed near the foot by two ribbons of black satin ribbon arranged in 1927. The skirt of the same material is striped all over with bands of satin ribbon. It is cut away in front to show a vest

of pink gauze, gathered at the neck and waist, and folds back to form revers, which join on the straight collar. The toque of pink roses is trimmed with an elegant bow
of black velvet. JUDIE CHOLLER.

No one will object if Uncle Jimmy railroads the C. K. & S. through to Benton Harbor.

PINGREE made himself popular by planting potatoes and now he proposes to plant the senate. That may be more of a job even if the governor has contracted for 100 collars.

THERE is some hope yet for Governor Pingree. Even a worse man than Pingree, Senator Tillman, called on the president a few days ago and told him that while he believed in low tariff and free silver he would at the same time do all in his power to give the gold standard and protection a fair trial. If prosperity came that way Senator Tillman said he would acknowledge that his faith had been tied to wrong principles. There is one difference between Tillman and Pingree—Tillman is really a smart man.

A CONCERN known as "The E. S. Dean Company" has been advertising for some time in the New York papers that it had a system of speculating in stocks whereby it was able to guarantee enormous profits to investors. It failed a day or two ago, but not until it had lured its clients out of an amount exceeding $1,000,000, and which may reach five times that sum. There are other concerns of the same kind still in operation, and the way in which they succeed in gulling people is amazing. Any one of ordinary experience cannot fail to perceive that a man who had a sure system of making money by speculation would use it himself and become infinitely rich, but this idea never reaches some minds.

HAMLET'S FATHER, And Many Other People Have Died of Poison in the Blood.

LIKE THE MEDICIS' TORFANA

Kidney Disease Affords an Exit From Life—Dodd's Kidney Pills Are a Life Preserver—Barber Fries Chose Living Rather Than Dying.

DETROIT, Mich., March 16.—The fashionable Italian poison of the XVI Century was Aqua Torfana. It was used by the Medicis and all the first families of Rome, Genoa and Naples. In five years historians tell us over 600 wives used it to make widows of themselves.

In these modern days, a more terrible and more prevalent poison is decimating the human family. Men have asked in vain for an antidote. It is uræmic poisoning of the blood, caused by diseased kidneys. The poison, which these useful organs should filter from the blood, is allowed to remain in the circulation and courses through the body like

"Accursed Hebenon.... whose effect Holds such an enmity with blood of man That with a sudden vigor it doth posset, And, curd, like eager droppings into milk, The thin and wholesome blood."

Today there is a remedy. Science has discovered a sure cure. From the laboratory of Dr. Dodd it has gone forth to mankind. All may have an apply it. It is sold under the name DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

It is a specific for all Kidney ailments. It cures by restoring the kidneys so that they properly perform their natural functions.

Charles Fries, a barber, at 193 E. 10th St., is one of many in this city who have tried DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS and been cured. Note we want he says:

DODD'S MEDICINE CO.: (Gentlemen)—For over four years I have been troubled with Kidney Disease. I purchased one box of DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS, and after I had used part of the box I felt better. I finished the box, and now am completely cured. I can recommend DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS to any one afflicted as I was. You are at liberty to publish this. I will swear to it.

TUG YET TO COME.

Senate Committee at Work on the Dingley Measure.

BE THROUGH IN TWO WEEKS MORE.

So Members Think—Pretty Much All the Real Trouble, However, Is to Come—Education in Duties the Senate's Idea—Simpson Insists That He Will Hold Up the House—Interstate Commerce Commission Filing for Railway Shocks.

Washington, April 10.—The Republican senators who are acting as a subcommittee of the senate committee of finance in the preparation of the tariff bill are inclined in their estimates now preparing to postpone the date of its presentation to the senate a little beyond the limit originally fixed by them. They express the opinion that it may be two weeks from the present time before it will be in shape to be reported. Some of them postpone the time until two weeks from next Monday. The committee is making very satisfactory progress with the bill, and many of the schedules have received final attention, among them being chemicals and cottons. None of the more puzzling questions, however, has been disposed of. The committee has deemed it wisest to leave the rates on wool, sugar, hides, coal, lead ore, lumber and all the other important subjects until the simpler matters can be determined. They take the position that they can settle the disputed points more satisfactorily after the other features of the bill are thoroughly digested and the probable revenue determined.

The Tag of War Is Yet to Come.

Many of the smaller items, accordingly, have been decided upon. While no detailed information can be secured it is understood that many reductions of duties have been made. The disposition of the committee is to make a quite general reduction, but this is found to be a task not easy of accomplishment because of the insistence of senators upon having the strongest protection for the articles in which they are particularly interested. There are, indeed, many demands for increases, and some of these are so pressing that the members of the committee are finding themselves considerably embarrassed between their desire to satisfy senators whose votes will be essential to the success of the bill and their conviction that the interests of the party demand reduction rather than increase.

Simpson Remains on the Warpath.

Washington, April 10.—Representative Simpson declares that he will carry into effect his threat to block any business which the house may attempt to do by unanimous consent before the speaker has appointed committees. He says he will also call for a quorum to approve the journal each time the house meets. There is no legislation for the house in prospect until the tariff or appropriation bills are returned to it by the senate, except the small matters of routine business which are likely to arise and which have been considered recently by unanimous consent. Should additional measures for the relief of the sufferers by the Mississippi floods be brought forward Simpson proposes to compel the presence of a quorum and the action of a committee on them or the adoption of a special rule for their consideration. The Democrats do not intend to abet Simpson in his obstructive tactics.

SETS A SORT OF RAILWAY TRAP.

And Hopes to Catch Some Violators of the Interstate Commerce Law.

Washington, April 10.—The interstate commerce commission is daily receiving replies to the circular sent out March 10 to the thirty-four railroads comprising the Joint Traffic association, calling for tabulated statements of the east-bound shipments of grain and grain products from Chicago to the Atlantic seaboard. Although the time fixed for making such reports by the terms of the circular expires today it will probably be the end of the month before all are in. No disposition has been shown by any of the railroads to forward the reports. The investigation contemplated by the circular is based upon complaints from time to time of rate-cutting carried on by rebates, drawbacks, etc.

The tabulated statements called for by the commission, requiring the railroads to give a detailed account, with names and dates of each shipment from Jan. 1 to March 15, from which the commission believes that any irregularities, rebates, etc., can be easily traced. As the law promises immunity to such confessed violations it is not believed there will be any disposition to conceal the facts where violations have occurred. These reports, however, can be made the basis of prosecutions where they lead to detections not acknowledged. After all the reports are in a hearing will be given by the commission, probably at Chicago, the latter part of May or early in June.

Restoring Removed Veterans.

Washington, April 10.—Secretary Bliss is carrying out the policy of the administration in restoring to the classified government service old war veterans who are held to have been removed improperly by the last administration. He has reinstated Captain Henry G. Porter, of Ohio, to his old position as chief of the mineral division of the land office, and Captain George Redway, of California, as chief of the accounts division, general land office.

Merely an Expression of Opinion.

Washington, April 10.—The senate resolution protesting against summary proceedings by the Spanish officials in Cuba against the captive insurgent leader Rivera has reached the state department through the White House. Secretary Sherman regarding it merely as declaratory of the sense of the senate and offered in advisory rather than a mandatory spirit, has filed it away and is not likely to carry out its suggestion.

Will Be Killed in the Senate.

Washington, April 10.—Joseph W. Bailey, the Democratic leader in the house of representatives, predicts that the retroactive clause of the Dingley bill will be killed in the senate.

Cheaper Gas for New York.

Albany, N. Y., April 10.—The senate has passed a bill reducing the price of gas 5 cents per 1,000 feet per year until the 1st rate is reached, which will be in 1910.

WAR DOGS LOOSE.

Greek Brigands Move Across the Turkish Frontier.

HOT BATTLE AT ONCE BEGINS.

And Was Going on at the Latest Reports—Turkish Commander on the Alert—Only Wants to See the Greek Regular Uniform Among the Invaders to Make a Move That May Bring on the Deluge—European Discontent.

Ellassona, Macedonia, April 10.—Bands of Greek brigands have entered Turkey at Krakra, in the vicinity of Grovena. The Turkish troops have been engaged with them, and fighting has been proceeding. At the Turkish headquarters this news is looked upon as being of the gravest description in view of the excitement here. Edhem Pasha has sent orders to have everything in readiness for an advance of the Turkish army in force. It is not known yet whether there are Greek troops among the bands that have entered Turkish territory. A dispatch received at the Turkish headquarters here from Grovena says that fighting between the Greeks and Turks continues. The Turks, following out the instructions of Edhem Pasha, have surrounded the Greek irregulars and a greater part of the Turkish division stationed at Grovena under Haki Pasha is now advancing.

Much Depends on a Uniform.

It is impossible to distinguish whether the invaders are supported by any substantial portion of the Greek regular army, as the Greeks have taken up a position in the middle of a forest. But the correspondent of the Associated Press is informed that the moment the Turkish officers ascertain the presence of the uniform of the Greek regulars in the ranks of the aggressors Edhem Pasha will order the advance of the entire Turkish army. The situation is most serious. In the meantime Edhem Pasha remains at the general headquarters awaiting news. He has already notified his generals of division to hold themselves in readiness for instant action and the reserves have already left the campsite here in order to move closer to the first line of defense. Grovena is eighteen hours' march from here and Krakra is ten miles' march southwestward of Grovena.

Turks in Good Fighting Shape.

The correspondent of the Associated Press was enabled yesterday morning to make a close investigation of the Turkish line of defense. It revealed that everything is in excellent shape. Four thousand pack horses are employed and enormous masses of war stores, pontoon, cannon, tents, medicines, ammunition, and in fact everything needed for a large army has been gathered here.

Attain Not Considered Serious.

London, April 10.—The Daily Chronicle's Athens correspondent telegraphing at midnight says: The following is all that is known here of the frontier affair near Krakra and Grovena. The commander of the frontier post at Traoufian telegraphed to the commander of the eighth battalion at Evzones, near Trillicka, that the Turks, after a band of insurgents had crossed the frontier, attacked three Greek positions, namely—those at Poulka, Prilantza and the tomb of Bimbasli. The commander added that fighting was still in progress. As he asked for only one company of reinforcements, he evidently did not consider the affair a grave one.

In Case of a Blockade.

London, April 10.—The attorney general, Sir Richard Webster, replying for the government yesterday relative to the blockade of Greece, said the intentions of the powers would not be announced until a definite decision had been taken. He could not state whether the blockade would be pacific or belligerent. If pacific the blockade would apply to Greek vessels only; in the event of it being belligerent there was no doubt that the usual practice would be followed of allowing the vessels of neutral powers already in the blockaded ports to complete their cargoes within a reasonable time and to sail at once.

JAMIESON RAID INVESTIGATION.

Doctor Indignantly Denies a Story—Light on the Reform Committee.

London, April 10.—The parliamentary committee which is investigating the Transvaal raid held its sixteenth sitting yesterday. Dr. Jamieson arrived with Sir John Willoughby, the military commander of the raid, and the former was again placed in the witness box. Dr. Jamieson in the course of the proceedings indignantly denied having told the officers that he had the queen's government at his back, remarking that it would have been idiotic in him and absolutely untrue to say so. Sir John Willoughby, in telling his story, said he got from him talks with Dr. Jamieson that if he succeeded in entering Johannesburg, Lord Rosemead (the governor of Cape Colony and high commissioner for South Africa) would do the rest.

Major Henry, the American, was next examined. He denied that the message he took from the reform committee to Dr. Jamieson, asking for a postponement of the latter's action, was submitted to or seen by Cecil Rhodes, as he expected Dr. Jamieson would refuse to postpone taking action. Dr. Wolf, of the reform committee, was the next witness examined. He said he had wanted Dr. Jamieson to delay action because the people of Johannesburg were not ready. Part of their plan was to seize the arsenal at Pretoria and get a supply, which they badly needed, of arms and ammunition. But, the witness added, the Boers got wind of the plot.

That Delagou Bay Sensation.

London, April 10.—The officials of the British office deny that a British squadron is going to Delagou bay in order to take possession of Tynack Island as announced by the Cape Town Argus on advice which it received from Pretoria.

French Senate Indorses the Concert.

Paris, April 10.—After passing several bills and by vote approving the statements of the government on the eastern situation and expressing confidence in its vigilance and firmness, the senate adjourned until May 18.

HOW WEARY IS OUR HEART!
Of kings and courts, of kingly, courtly ways,
In which the life of man is bought and sold,
How weary is our heart these many days!

Of gorgeous embassies that hold,
Of royal withal in fine and silken phrase,
How weary is our heart these many days!

Of wavering counselors neither hot nor cold,
Whom from his mouth God speweth out, it told,
How weary is our heart these many days!

Yes, for the ravaged night is round the lands,
And sick are we of all the imperial story,
The tramp of power and its long trail of pain;
The mighty power in meanness and decay
How weary is our heart these many days!

The mighty hands
That in the dead, affronted name of peace
Bind down a people to be racked and slain;
The envious armies, waxing without cease,
All puissant, all in vain;
The pacts and leagues to murder by delays,
And the dumb throngs that on the deaf throne
Gaze!

The common, loveless lust of territory,
The lips that only babble of their mart,
While to the night the shrieking hamlets blame;
The bought allegiance and the purchased praise,
False honor and shameful glory—
Of all the evil whereof this part
How weary is our heart!

How weary is our heart these many days!
—William Watson.

LEADING HEARTS.

"A disappointment connected with something near your heart, and—let me see!"

She turned the cards up meditatively on the shining oak table and put her hands to her head in a pretty affectation of wisdom.

"That means love," laying her finger on the five of hearts, "eternal love—the love of some woman. It looks like an old friend, and she runs in hearts, I think. Yes, she is quite light. Can you place her?"

"As far as the coloring goes," he laughed. "I know any number of light women—yourself, for instance."

"Oh, I'm not in it! My hair is too yellow. This one is more of the demiblonde; something like Miss Maitland—bronze hair and blue eyes."

"My dear girl, Miss Maitland isn't a blond at all. If you can't do better than that for me, I'll throw up the whole concern."

She smiled and ran off a few more cards, counting every third one in quite a professional manner.

"Well, if it's not Miss Maitland," shaking her head, "you will have to fill in the name yourself. There is the ace of spades. That's bad luck and a death—Oh, there's your wish! Have you made a wish?"

He shook his head. "You didn't tell me."

"Well, I tell you now. Make it right away, and a good one, too. For I believe it's going to come true."

"But," he protested, leaning forward and resting his arms on the table, "if I make such an important one I want a guarantee. Are you prepared to give it to me?"

"Don't be absurd, Jack; this is serious. Now, wish something good."

"Must I tell you what it is?"

"No," doubtfully. "You don't have to, but you can if you want to."

"Well, I will tell you, if I get it. Now, mind, this is very important."

"Select the cards then. Does it concern a woman?"

"Yes."

"I might have known it. Is she light or dark?"

"That would be telling."

"Oh, you are too provoking!" petulantly picking up the cards. "It would serve you right if I said you didn't get your old wish at all."

"But you won't do that?"

"Be still. I will if you don't let go of my hands. See! You are making me drop all the cards."

"Nonsense! I'll help you pick them up. Just tell me if I get my wish."

"Well, I'll see. There's that ten of diamonds, and the deuce, and—ah, the ace of hearts! You will have it, sure, but there is a little disappointment just at first. I see—dear me, Jack! What are you doing? Let go my hands."

"Not until you have given me a guarantee for my wish."

"What do you mean?"

"I mean—oh, well, you have known it all along. You are my wish. No, no, don't move. Come, dear, be serious with me for once."

"But I don't want to be serious," she cried, trying to draw away from him. "You have spoiled all my fortune. Look! Here I see a gift coming."

"What do I care for the cards or anything else in the world but you? Come, Nell! Give me an answer. You must have some feeling of kindness in your heart for me, your old friend."

"That's it," she whispered falteringly, for the first time letting her eyes meet his. "We are such old friends. I have known you all my life—I—" rubbing her hand on the table nervously, "I am fonder of you than almost any one, but how can I tell if that is love? Jack, dear, can't we go on in the old way? I don't want to marry." Her fingers closed pleadingly. "Why should we spoil it all by getting married?"

He made a quick, impatient gesture. "Oh, yes! I know it is different with men, but I would be contented to live on just as we are for years. Why, see! We would never know what it was to tire of each other. We would not have all the romance brushed off our love by the monotonous intimacy of married life. We would have all of the delight with none of the despair. I don't know why marriage should be regarded as the height and pinnacle of earthly bliss. It seems to me it is the one great institution that destroys love."

She gave a restless sigh and let her chin sink into the soft palms of her hands. The pink light from the lamp fell upon her yellow hair, where it lay in babyish rings on her forehead.

He stood looking at her a moment, his heart smothered with pain and longing and love. Then he leaned slowly forward and took both her hands from her face and held them in the firm clasp of his.

"Nell, dear," he said softly, "you talk this way because you don't know what love is. Why, do you suppose for a moment that a mere pleasant companionship would satisfy a man who loved you? He would be only half a man to accept what you suggested. As for me, I cannot go on with our friendship. I will not take a crust when I have asked for bread. You cannot help it, dear, and I must drop out of your life and live my own as best I may."

He dropped her hands, and, turning away, began to finger mechanically the little string that regulated the lamp until the flame began to flicker and finally went out.

"I beg your pardon. I have a match. I can light it again," he muttered hastily.

She watched him in silence as he struck a light and with a steady hand once more sent a soft glow over the room.

Her eyes traveled to his face, with the light shining full upon it. It was strangely still. She felt a peculiar little fluttering sensation in her throat.

"Jack," she whispered falteringly.

He turned in a sudden passion, and catching both her hands drew her near to him—so near that his white face was almost touching hers.

She did not move, but a deep flush crept over his tanned cheeks, and his arms tightened convulsively. The force of his clasp crushed and hurt her. His face came nearer, nearer. Their breaths mingled. Then, with a sharp exclamation, he loosened his hold—so quickly, so suddenly, that she almost fell backward.

"Forgive me," he muttered hoarsely. "Don't speak to me. Good night. Say good night to your mother too."

He pulled aside the curtain with a rough hand and stepped into the hall. She could hear him getting into his coat. Her hands were still fingering the cards. From the force of habit she turned three up. Her eyes fell upon them as they lay under the lamplight.

A mistake—he was getting his cane now. A—the door was opening—a heartache. She felt the cool night wind on her neck and turned slightly. Then there was the sound of the closing door echoing through the silent house—a mistake.

Her eyes clung to the cards. They seemed to mock her. She stretched her arms out blindly toward the door and tried to call his name, but her lips did not move.

Then in a frenzy of pain she scattered the cards on the table. Her eyes fell suddenly upon one. She snatched it recklessly from the pack, and rushing into the hall flung the door wide open.

"Jack! Jack!" she panted.

He was half way down the steps, and as he paused and turned toward her, she impulsively threw the card at his feet. He stooped wonderingly, and raising it held it up to the light.

It was the five of hearts.

"Nell!" he cried, springing up the steps. His voice was hardly to be recognized.

A sudden flutter of nervousness swept over her, and with a throb of fear she slammed the door tight, but he knocked heavily against the panels.

"Nell, Nell, open! What do you mean?"

The door did not move.

"Sweetheart!"

Then there was a little uncertain turning of the knob and a crack of light appeared. Crashing through it, he caught the slight, trembling form in his quivering arms.

"Nell, Nell, what do you mean?"

"I mean," her words falling spasmodically from her lips, "I mean that I want to give you my—guarantee."—Leigh Ford in Truth.

MOTHER SAVES HER LITTLE ONE

At the Loss of Her Own Life—Several Others Killed and Many Houses Blown
to Pieces—Flood Envelops Thirty-Five Families on an Island Who Are in Danger of Death—Overflow Situation in the North and South.

Atlanta, Ga., April 10.—Telegrams
from Oark, Ala., and Valdosta, Ga.,
crossing the ill-fated town of Arlington,
Ga., show that this section was visited yesterday by another gulf cyclone, ascending the Appalachian valley and sweeping northward with terrific force
to the confluence of the Chattahoochee
and the Flint rivers, where it divided,
in one direction going toward Oark,
where timber was uprooted and houses
blown to pieces. Several lives were lost, among them Mrs. Powers, who was caught beneath the falling timbers of her house and crushed. Her husband was unable to save her, and was himself badly hurt, but he rushed off
through the blinding rain and intense darkness for assistance. The rest of the family was rescued, among them a baby 3 weeks old, whom the mother
protected at the loss of her own life.

Sweeps Through Arlington Again.
The second section of the cyclone was deflected upon the Flint valley, breaking across south Georgia and passing through Arlington, where but a few weeks ago nine children were killed in the ruins of their school house. Reaching Valdosta the storm became intensified in fury and trees were blown down in every part of the city. A church in the southern part of the city was wrenched from its foundations and twisted into fragments by the angry
winds. The box cars on the Plant system were blown down off the track.
Lightning struck a switch-board in the Western Union telegraph office and set fire to the building. From many other towns in the vicinity reports of an equally alarming nature are coming in.

IN PERIL OF THE FLOOD.

People on an Island in Imminent Danger
of Being Drowned.

Little Rock, Ark., April 10.—Governor
Jones has received a letter from people
at Island 73, White river, in which it is said that the people there are in imminent danger of perishing. The inhabitants are on house tops, on rafts
and all manner of floats, and are entirely without food. There are said to be thirty-five families around the island,
and the letter states that unless they receive immediate succor they will certainly perish. One family near the island has just lost six children in the flood. Another letter from C. B. Blackburn, inspector of Laconia levee district, gives a graphic description of the sufferings of the victims of the flood
in that district and urges the governor
to help render them assistance.

At Dawson's Landing 125 people are destitute and in immediate need of food; forty at Avenue 50 or 70 at Perguson Landing; 150 at Minor Knowlton; 140 at Hendrix and 200 at Laconia. The appeals were referred to the relief committee.

Situation Is No Worse.

Memphis, April 10.—Notwithstanding
the high winds and heavy rains reported from the overflooded Mississippi
delta, the situation in the flood-stricken
section, if not better, is certainly no worse. The water which has been pouring through five big crevasses for more than a week is rapidly flowing into the Mississippi again at a point twelve miles north of Vicksburg and is sweeping southward with terrible force. The strath on the Louisiana levees will be something terrible for a week, and if they withstand the powerful pressure
for that length of time all will be well.

GROWING WORSE AT GRAND FORKS.

Three Continues to Rise Very Rapidly—
Town Inevitably Flooded Away.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 10.—The situation still continues to grow alarmingly worse, and the probabilities are
that the surrounding country will be flooded as the river is still rising from one to two inches an hour. At 6 o'clock yesterday morning the water had reached forty-five feet, three inches considerably above the '92 mark. From 7 to 11 o'clock the water has risen two and one-quarter inches. The cedar paving blocks on lower South Third street

and on Double Avenue and the bridge
are all torn up and floating. Business is almost entirely suspended. The large blocks have from six to ten feet
of water in their basements and ground floors. Residents and business men on Demolition avenue have all removed to other quarters. On Demolition avenue and Kittson avenue the water is within one foot of the Third street pavement. The Central and Belmont schools have closed on account of high water in their basements, which put out the furnace fires. The auxiliary pump house is entirely covered with water. The regular pump house, while surrounded by water, continues to run day and night. It will require from five to seven feet more rise to put out their fires and stop their engines. This great disaster has already assumed alarming proportions, causing suffering and distress. The people are just beginning to realize
what a large amount of property loss
there will be.

St. Paul, April 10.—The river is on the up grade again. From midnight to 7 o'clock it rose the tenth of a foot, and is still going up, although slowly. The government officials do not view this
with any apprehension.

Much Wanted Man Can Be Had.
Jamestown, N. Y., April 10.—H. J. Sanford, a stranger, was arrested here yesterday while trying to negotiate the sale
of $1,000 in forged drafts to the Chauteau Building and Loan association. He is wanted at Janesville, Wis.; Marion, Ind.; Bloomington, Ill.; Lima, O.,
and Terre Haute, Ind., for swindling.

Passed the Initiative and Referendum.
Lincoln, Neb., April 10.—The Nebraska
legislature adjourned yesterday afternoon after a session extended fifteen days beyond its allotted time. The last bill passed was the initiative and referendum, which went through the senate
just before closing. This bill applies only to Omaha.

TRUST IMPORTING SUGAR.

Scheme to Avoid Payment of Duties in Dingley Bill.

New York, April 10.—Actively on the part of the sugar trust to import enormous quantities of sugar before the enactment of the Dingley bill continues.
It became necessary for Collector Kilbuck to employ ten more weighers, and
twenty others will be hired immediately
to handle the many cargoes of sugar entered at this port. The payment of duty on sugar has increased more than $500,000 this week.

At other ports this movement is correspondingly large. A dispatch from Boston states that thirty ships loaded
with sugar, wool and other merchandise
from European ports are scheduled to sail for that port within the next few days. In Philadelphia the receipts last week were large, and the showing for this week is heavy. All this sugar is entered as "directed shipped prior to April 1," hence the duty is collectable
according to the schedule in the Wilson law.

Medical Law for Wisconsin.

Madison, April 10.—The medical bill
has passed both houses of the legislature and will be a law as soon as Governor Scofield has affixed his signature and the act has been published. The bill provides for a commission to consist of seven physicians to be appointed by the governor, three of them to be allopaths, two homeopaths and two eclectics. They are to examine applicants who have no diplomas and pass
upon the diplomas of graduates of colleges. The assembly passed the bill taxing express companies, the revised banking code and the Merriam bill
providing for the appointment of a tax commission. Seventeen bills in all were passed. The senate passed three bills
and killed nine.

Why Does Rev. Martha Withdraw?

Chicago, April 10.—Rev. R. S. Martin has formally withdrawn from the pastorate of the Western Avenue Methodist church, and resigned his membership in the Methodist church at large. This action, it is understood, was not voluntarily with him, but was the result of a meeting held yesterday afternoon. The real reason for this action will never be made public, if the members of the committee who have been pressing the charges against him and the officers of the Chicago conference keep faith with each other.

Globe Savings Bank Failure.

Chicago, April 10.—Late yesterday
Vice President Avrell, of the failed Globe Savings bank, surrendered himself and was immediately released on bonds. President Spaulding is not in the city, but in a letter written to a friend in Chicago he says he will return Monday. In the meantime officers are looking for him. Spaulding was appointed treasurer of the State University
board four years ago at the solicitation
of ex-Governor Altgeld soon after the latter was installed in office.

Held to Bids Against Cooper.

Louisville, April 10.—Eddie Bald, of Buffalo, who is now training here at Fountain Perry, has accepted a challenge from Tom Cooper, of Detroit, to race at Detroit on May 31. The distance will be one mile, best two in three. He has accepted the challenge of Walter Sanger, of Milwaukee, to race
for a purse and $1,000 side bet on the same conditions.

Ashland Wilkes Brings $1,500.

Lexington, Ky., April 10.—At the horse
sale yesterday Ashland Wilkes, a famous trotting stallion, 15 years old, and sire of John B. Gentry, 2:00 1/4, was sold to Brook Cussy, Lexington, for $7,500.
He sold at a private sale a year ago for $5,000.

Report on the Clover Leaf.

Indianapolis, April 10.—H. B. Peirce, receiver of the Clover Leaf, has filed his report for March with Judge Wood.
It shows that since May 22, 1893, the road has earned $12,072,555.54, and the disbursements have been $12,025,143.23.

SEVENTEEN PERSONS ARE MISSING.

Of Those Who Were in the Hotel at Knoxville—Lost, 1,611,000.

Knoxville, Tenn., April 10.—Of the fifty-two guests who were sleeping in the Hotel Knox Thursday morning when the fire broke out only thirty-five have been accounted for. The hotel register was destroyed and it will perhaps never
be known how many lives were lost.
Those known to have perished in the flames are: G. W. Roberts, of Pluaska, Tenn.; lightning rod agent, E.
A. Williams, Springfield, Mass.; retired
merchant, T. S. Sprague, have been pos-

GREATEST OF ALL PHYSICIANS

Discoverer of Paine's Celery Compound to Whom Thousands Owe Their Life and Happiness.

"Excepting its handful of magnificent statesmen and its military heroes,"
says the most recent writer upon America, "the people owe more to Dartmouth's physician-teacher than to any one man."

"In every walk of life, among the highest officeholders at Washington,
in the homes of the best people in the large cities, among the every day
folks of the country, families in comfortable circumstances, families that live from hand to mouth, and could not,
if they wished, afford the services of any but an ordinary physician—everywhere I have met people to whom Paine's celery compound has been a blessing."

The story of the life-work of this great among men has been often told and is familiar to most readers. The likeness above is probably the best
portrait of him yet printed.

It was the world-famous discovery by Prof. Phelps of an infallible cure for those fearful ills that result from an impaired nervous system and impair

blood which has endeared the great
doctor to the world, and made his life
an era in the practice of medicine.

Prof. Phelps was born in Connecticut and graduated in medicine at Yale.

His unusual talent soon brought him
reputation among his professional brethren. First he was elected to the professorship of anatomy
surgery in the Vermont University.
Next he was appointed lecturer on material medica and medical botany in Dartmouth College. The next year he was chosen professor of the chair, then vacated by Prof. Robby, and occupied the chair, the most important one in the country, at the time when he first formulated his most remarkable proposition.

In view of the overwhelming testimony to the value of Paine's celery compound that has recently appeared from men and women of national reputation, the picture of Prof. Phelps is particularly interesting.

The fact is, Paine's celery compound
is not a patent medicine; it is not a sarsaparilla; it is not a mere tonic; it is not an ordinary nerve-cure; it is as far beyond them all as the diamond is superior to cheap glass.

It makes people well. It is the one

true specific recognized and prescribed
today by eminent practitioners for diseases arising from a debilitated nervous system. Prof. Phelps gave to his profession a positive cure for sleeplessness,
wasting strength, dyspepsia, biliousness,
liver complaint, neuritis, rheumatism,
all nervous diseases and kidney troubles.
For all such complaints Paine's celery compound has succeeded again and again where everything else has failed.

No remedy was ever so highly recommended, because none ever accomplished so much.
Today Paine's celery compound
stands without competition for feeding exhausted nerves and building up the strength of the body. It cures radically and permanently. The nervous prostration and general debility from which thousands of women suffer so long that it finally goes to the second nature
with them—all this suffering and despondency can be very soon removed by properly feeding the nerves, and replacing the unhealthy blood by a fresher, more highly vitalized fluid. A healthy increase in appetite and a corresponding gain in weight and good spirits follow the use of Paine's celery compound.

Paine's celery compound is the most remarkable medical achievement of this last half of the nineteenth century.

WHAT WILL THEY DO?

Councilmen Will Vote on the Eastman Springs Street Railway Franchise Tonight.

MEASURE MAY BE DEFEATED.

This is the Opinion of Men Who Have Talked With the Aldermen Who Oppose It.

The common council tonight will demonstrate that its members are men who believe in the advancement of the city commercially or that it has in its organization members who are willing to be dictated to by three or four citizens. It will either act as to bring upon it the benediction of a pleased people or it will indicate that it is justly deserving of the criticism of an injured populace. The council can show tonight by passing the street railway ordinance that the interests of the city and a wonderful majority of its residents are believed to be paramount to the selfish desires of a few.

Business men today have neglected their work to discuss the probable action of the city council in the consideration of the franchise for a street railway to Eastman Springs. The opposition to the measure is so weak that but few words have been spoken against it, but some people predict that these few words will be all powerful when the aldermen are called to vote.

Those in closest communication with the councilmen declare that Ward, Cole and E. W. Brown, who voted against the franchise before, are firm as the rock of Gibraltar and will fight the measure with all the energy at their command. In this case defeat is certain and unless the builders of the road, Seely McCord and O. Westcott, can be induced to make a compromise the opportunity to secure a car line to Eastman Springs will be ignored. The vote of six aldermen is necessary and the likelihood of securing it is pathetically small.

From expressions repeatedly made by the gentlemen who ask for the franchise, there is no hope of their accepting any other route than that proposed in the original franchise. They assert that the operation of the road over any other line could not be made profitable, and that if the use of Water street is denied them they will abandon the project entirely.

If it is determined that the opposition against the franchise in the council has no disposition to weaken an earnest endeavor will be made by the citizens to induce McCord and Westcott to accept some other route.

Mr. McCord was seen this afternoon and declared the road would not be built if the use of Water street between Main and Territorial was denied him. Mr. Westcott feels the same way.

FASCINATING FANCHON.

She Won the Plaudits of Many Palms Last Night.

Amateur talent from the Benton Harbor college—the Junior class—presented "Fanchon, the Cricket," a second time last night in "Conkey's" opera house. They played to a smaller audience than they were greeted with on the occasion of their initial appearance, but what last night's audience lacked in numbers it made up in warmth and appreciation and the company of local actors gathered as much inspiration from the 200 persons who faced the stage of the theatre last night as a sea of colder faces could have produced.

"The Cricket," a difficult role, full of perplexing lines, was again assumed by Miss Sophia Zebell. She portrayed the life of the secluded, uncouth, but honest Fanchon with wonderful accuracy. Indeed the one who successfully carries this role must needs act a dual part, and if she presents the Fanchon who knew no other guiding hand than that of Old Fadet—the Fanchon who was guileless and in rags with the same ease that she represents the Fanchon who pleads with the rich family, Father Barbeaud, for a reconciliation over the attachment between herself and Laundry, she is clever. Miss Zebell was applauded more frequently and with greater vigor in the latter half of the play, indicating her ability to be better satisfied with her as a refined lady than as a sniggering maiden.

Laundry, in love with Fanchon, the part ranking next in importance to that of Fanchon, was the role in which Roscoe Rouse appeared. Had he thrown more feeling and enthusiasm into his attitude in his love making scenes it would have been truer to the reality. The author possibly intends to give Laundry dignity by enforcing a well-studied reserve in his demeanor while hating his heart to "The Cricket." In which case Mr. Rouse was not at fault.

The other characters, all of whom were well represented, follow: "Father Barbeaud," Will H. Woodley; "Didier," George Edgecombe; "Etienne," Will Moore; "Pierre," Will H. Woodley; "Colin," John Sterling; "Old Fadet," Cynthia Cary; "Mother Barbeaud," Verna Burbank; "Madelon," Eleanor Townsend; "Marlette," Bertha Woodley; "Susette," Verna Burbank; "Annette," Cynthia Cary; "Father Callard," John Sterling.

The drama was preceded by the comic farce, "The bicyclists," which was greatly enjoyed.

THEY MAKE A REQUEST

Aldermen Ward and E. W. Brown Are Appealed to by Their Constituents.

Asking Them to Vote for the Eastman Springs Street Railway Franchise.

A petition with the signatures of many of the constituents of Aldermen Ward and E. Brown, representatives of the third ward, will be used as an inducement to induce these officials to vote in favor of the street railway franchise at the council meeting tonight.

The petition requests them to support the measure. What effect it will have remains to be seen.

THEIR COFFINS READY.

Gov. Pingree Proposed to Put Senators in Their Wooden Overcoats.

LANSING, April 10.—Governor Pingree says that he wants to give the house a talking to for not passing his railroad bills. "How about the senators?" was asked.

"Oh, hades, I'm going to employ detectives and put them on the track of some of the senators. I'll have half a dozen a nation in jail before the season closes, just as like as not, and I'll have some more of them in collars. I'm going to bring a lot of collars up from Detroit one of these days. The plates will be engraved on all of them."

"You'll need about 100 collars," remarked Senator Coleman.

"Well, we'll have the collars all ready just the same and plenty of 'em," rejoined the governor with a scowl.

VERDICT OF SIX CENTS.

Rendered By Direction of Judge Coolidge Yesterday.

Judge Coolidge directed the jury in the case of Sylvester Parks against W. R. Korstetter to render a verdict of six cents for the plaintiff. The order was made on motion of James O'Hara, attorney for Parks.

Yesterday afternoon the trial of the attachment suit brought by John W. Weaver against Francis W. Gano was begun. The proofs were closed and the case will be concluded next Monday when court reconvenes, with the arguments of the counsel.

Judge Coolidge made the following assignment of cases for next week:

Monday.—People vs. Elijah Romaine, people vs. Viola Smith, Edward Backman vs. George B. Thayer et al., Emma L. Colby vs. Emma Portman, Ebenezer Harris vs. William A. Robe.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Miss Clara Edmunds visited Thursday afternoon and Miss Mae Hopkins was present Friday forenoon.

The baseball team has commenced practice and hopes to soon be in condition to arrange dates with other teams. Their most promising pitcher, Bert Niemeyer, injured himself while wrestling Wednesday and this may delay the somewhat.

Rhetoricals are no more. The list of names has been finished and erased and it is the hope of all that no more will be arranged.

FOR WOMEN ONLY.

Mrs. Dr. Guyton Delivered Some Plain Truths Last Night.

Mrs. Dr. Guyton spoke to a congregation of ladies in the Methodist church last evening on the sacred duties of motherhood and illustrated in a beautiful manner by means of a rose, how a mother can impart to the child the lessons of parentage.

Mrs. Guyton believes that sin and misery is due to disease and to no other cause and that until men and women become perfectly healthy, prisons, almshouses, reform schools and asylums will be a necessity and that social and economic evils will prevail and that woman, through lack of education of their health and a knowledge of hereditary and prenatal influence, are to a greater or less extent responsible for these evils. The organization of literary clubs is of much less importance than the organization of clubs to teach woman to become scientific and healthful mothers.

As woman was the latest conception of the infinite she has a greater responsibility and the greater enfranchisement of woman will conduce to uplift and elevate the race because subserfdom as well as physically weak woman cannot be the mothers of great men and great women and until we have ideal people we cannot have ideal marriages and however much and superior is the education which the child receives after birth it is of little avail without the best hereditary and prenatal influences. That perfect physical health will produce a race of Gods, has been so perfectly and scientifically demonstrated by students of anthropology as to have become an axiomatic truth. By an illustration with flowers the similarity between the sexual nature of plant life and that of the human being was shown. The greatest differences being that flowers form only perfect unions, unions which are heaven made, therefore, there are no divorces among the plant life.

Mrs. Guyton is a lady of more than average intelligence. She understands her subject thoroughly and presents it in a very instructive and entertaining manner. From an educational standpoint the lecture was of the greatest value to those who attended.

AN INSANE ASYLUM.

Some of the Y. M. C. A. Senators Want One Established.

A storm occurred in the Y. M. C. A. senate last night when Senator Allison (J. S. Bailey) introduced a bill for the establishment of an asylum for insane senators. Some of the statesmen constructed the act as personally assailing them and in language rankling with spleen they denounced the measure, declaring it was a travesty which ought not to be allowed in a body of men who are supposed to have some dignity. The opposition to the bill was represented by Senators White (W. Cameron) and Vest (O'Hara).

After a prolonged discussion a vote on the bill was taken which resulted in its passage. Senators White, Vest, Stewart, (Curry) and Cullom (Phonem) were arrayed on the negative side. The bill other than providing for establishment and maintenance of an insane asylum grants the president the power to determine who of the senators are to become inmates of the institution.

Senator Vest championed the introduction of a bill to increase the salary of the president and vice president, to double the amount these officials are now receiving.

Senator Allen (Crago) secured the consent of the senate to a revision of the Dingley bill by a committee of five senators. Senator White argued that such a proceeding was a waste of time; that the Dingley bill had not thoroughly been discussed and before its contents were fully known a revision could not be made with any degree of intelligence.

A vote of thanks was extended to Senator White (Cameron) on motion of Senator Hanna (Friedaux) for the valuable service he had rendered in the senate, which should receive recognition at that time in view of his contemplated departure. Senator White responded to the courtesy in a very graceful speech.

The prohibition bill was voted upon and carried.

It knocks a cold in one night. Ask for Nox-a-Kold at Bird's drug store. Satisfaction guaranteed. Price 25 cents.

In Doubt.

A certain minister, who is not always
so careful as he ought to be in making
his teaching and his practices correspond,
was lately telling some friends a story
of adventure. It was a pretty "tall"
story, and the minister's 10-year-old little girl was observed to be listening to it very intently. When he finished, she fastened her wide open eyes upon her father's face and said very gravely, "Is that true, or are you preaching now,
papa?"—Household Words.

A Slight Contrast.

"What a stylish dress!"
"Yes; it cost me $80. I had it made to wear to the last charity card party."
"What does it cost to go to one of the parties?"
"Twenty-five cents."—Cleveland

PINGREE EXPLAINS.
He Claims He Will Not Bolt the Party.

Governor Pingree now issues a manifesto or an explanation every day.

Yesterday the governor said he had heard that republican leaders had an idea that his public address last Wednesday meant that he had bolted or contemplated bolting the republican party. He added:

"Because I said I am a bimetalist
and that I did not believe the republican party can win another national victory on a single gold standard they charged me with being a bolter. Where do they get license to put such a construction on what I said, and why are they making so much of it just at this time?"

"I have said repeatedly in the past
that I was a bimetalist, and the newspapers printed my words. When I saw McKinley, shortly after election last November, I told him the same thing
if I remember correctly, and he did not deny that a bimetallic policy is the best one for the party in the future.
McKinley is a better bimetalist today than I am. He has done more than I ever did to promote the cause of bimetallism, for he has had a better opportunity to do so, yet nobody calls him a bolter. I stand to-day squarely on the financial plank of the platform adopted
at the republican national convention
at Minneapolis in 1892. That plank was then believed by most of the national leaders of the party to be the best for the country and the party that could be constructed. I believe so still. I have never changed my views.
They ask me why I didn't repudiate
the St. Louis gold plank last summer.
I'll ask them why hundreds of the most prominent men in the party all over the country didn't do so. They were just as pronounced bimetalists as I was,
and they are still bimetalists. I could make a pretty list of republicans right here in Michigan who didn't like the gold platform any better than I."

Nature is sometimes slow to speak when her laws are transgressed. One does not feel the effects of little bad habits at the first, but the system will in time rebel against those abuses. As rust eats away the hardest steel, so do the poisons in tobacco, morphine, tea, coffee, chocolate and cocoa eventually undermining the strongest system. Nature is slow to resent the use of these drugs, but when she rebels it is in Paralysis, Paresis, Nervous Prostration, Dyspepsia, Etc.

The Third City.

When the New Railroads are Finished Benton Harbor Will Be Michigan's Third City as Regards Railroad Importance.

IN NUMBER OF ROADS SURPASSED ONLY BY DETROIT.

The Three New Railroads Will Greatly Change the Appearance of Benton Harbor on Future Maps of the State.

Within the next year Benton Harbor will be the third city in Michigan in regard to railroad importance, unless all the indications for new railroads fall to materialize. Counting the Vandalla, which runs within half a mile of Benton Harbor, this city has now three railroads in operation, viz., the Chicago & West Michigan, the Big Four and the Vandalla, or Pennsylvania, three of the most important railroad systems which run through Michigan.

In addition to these three roads, two more roads are in the course of construction, the St. Joseph Valley, a part of the Baltimore & Ohio system, and the Benton Harbor electric, a road which which will go under some of the principal streets of the city. Railroads only build tunnels to enter cities where real estate is valuable and they put money in tunnels in only such towns as have a future. For instance, the New York Central and the New Haven & Hartford enter New York City through a tunnel under Central park; the Pennsylvania railroad runs under Baltimore the entire distance of the corporation; St. Louis is entered by a tunnel. Benton Harbor will be the only Michigan city which has a railroad running many feet beneath its streets.

The tunnel road though using electricity will have powerful motors which will draw twenty or thirty standard freight cars loaded. The tunnel will be large enough to accommodate any palace or circus car run on any road. It is not likely to be a double will operate 100 miles of track with electricity for its motive power. The city is assured of and practically has five railroads, and all the arrangements are made for the extension of the Chicago, Kalamazoo & Saginaw from Kalamazoo to this city. With five railroads Benton Harbor will be the fourth greatest railroad center in the state of Michigan and with the six roads which are assured Benton Harbor will take third place in the railroad cities of the state if not second, as the railroads here would be equal in number and importance to those in Grand Rapids. The population of the city is certain to keep pace with the railroads and in a few years Benton Harbor will be the third city of importance in all lines in the state.

Detroit has eight railroads, Grand Rapids and Saginaw six. Two of the roads that enter Saginaw are of very little if any importance. They are lumber roads running through a region where the lumber has been cut off and only pine stumps remain. They are about equal in importance to a road running from Benton Harbor to Ox Creek.

THE NEW RAILROADS.

The St. Joseph Valley.

The St. Joseph Valley, now known as the Milwaukee, Benton Harbor & Columbus, was begun last fall and work has been progressing rapidly all winter. The greater part of the road from Buchanan to this city has been completed, and from Buchanan the road will extend south through South Bend and tap the Baltimore & Ohio road at Naperville. This road will be of great importance in the way of carrying freight and will be a great factor in the development of manufacturing industries here. The road will do a large passenger business as probably many of its through passengers will be carried to Chicago via Benton Harbor and boat.

THE TUNNEL ROAD.

The Benton Harbor Electric will have many terminals.

The Benton Harbor Electric railroad will operate 100 miles of track and will form a system which in the language of railroad "will grow."

The original road will extend from Benton Harbor to Dowagiac, with spurs to Decatur, Cassopolis and one going through Paw Paw to Allegan. As THE NEWS sees it this, of the three new railroads to be built this one will be of the greatest benefit to local merchants. The fare on the road will be so cheap and the trains will stop almost anywhere for passengers, so that a large territory of rich country will make Benton Harbor its chief center of trade. It will be as good as adding several hundred families to the population of the city.

The one point above others that has enlisted many to support this road is the tunnel scheme in connection. The road will enter the city through a brick lined tunnel a quarter of a mile long track, however. When the Grand Trunk tunnel was built under the St. Clair river at Port Huron the railroad officials thought that some day they might require a double track and had the engineers estimate the difference in the cost. The estimate was a surprise. It showed that two single track tunnels could be built for about two-thirds of the cost of one large enough for a double track.

THE C. K. & S. ROAD.

A Road Which Senator Brice May Some Day Control.

The Chicago, Kalamazoo & Saginaw, the latest railroad possibility which seems assured for Benton Harbor, will in the end give to this city that which it has long desired—a direct line from here to Toledo and the east.

The road is now 45 miles long and extends from Kalamazoo nowhere—in other words to Hastings and from Hastings to a jumping off place called Woodbury. The road never paid. Kalamazoo blew in $100,000 in a bonus to get the road and other towns along the line put up $100,000 more. The road cost $150,000 and is bonded for $250,000. By building the road to Benton Harbor it would make a system of value and with its connection with the Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinaw at Kalamazoo it would furnish Benton Harbor a short line to Toledo. The Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinaw is owned or controlled by ex-Senator Brice and when the C. K. & S. is extended to this city it will only be a question of a short time until Mr. Brice will gobble it up and consolidate it with his 2,500 miles of track. A road to the east is what Benton Harbor has been dreaming of for years and this road will fill the bill exactly. If Uncle Jimmy Monroe and his associate fail to build this extension there will be an independent road from here to Kalamazoo which the C. J. & M. people will have a hand in building.

FASHION'S FANCIES.

Costumes Both Elaborate and Sovereign. The Tailor Made Gown.

Nearly all tastes may be suited by the present mode, there is so much variety afforded. Every woman may choose what best becomes her and belongs most appropriately to her condition of life without fear of seeming out of date. Princess gowns are in fashion, for instance, but not exclusively so, and nobody is required to wear them under penalty of appearing odd. Plain and elaborate gowns are in vogue simultaneously. There are simple jackets and others covered with embroidery and braiding, capes of varied lengths and adornments, long redingotes of elegant simplicity—in fact, fashion is now nearly all embracing and so catholic that all tastes may be more or less suited.

The tailor made gown, like death, has all seasons for its own and is always in the mode. But each season sees it modified and changed more or less, although it always retains its characteristic plainness. It is adorned with straight or sinuous stitching, plaids, straps, tabs, galloon, soutache and embroidery. Beige, gray or chambray cloth is employed for them, and is striped all over with bands of satin ribbon. It is cut away in front to show a vest of pink gauze, gathered at the neck and waist, and folds back to form revers, which join on the straight collar. The toque of pink roses is trimmed with an aigrette bow of black velvet. JUNIE CHOLLET.

Benton Harbor College Music Department.

We desire to announce to our friends of the twin cities and vicinity that Miss Fannie Collins, graduate and gold medalist of the American Conservatory of Music, Chicago, has been engaged to take charge of the piano department.

She comes with high testimonials of her efficiency as a pianist and as a teacher. Miss Collins, supported by other artists, will introduce her work here with a grand concert to be given shortly.

tones of blue, green and violets are also seen, although the neutral tints predominate. Covert cloth in various shades of gray, beige, tan and brown is one of the very best, neatest and most serviceable materials for these costumes. Black embroideries on white and all light tones, whether the ground material be cloth or silk, are increasingly employed for revers, plaques, vests and similar accessories. There are also openwork goods of black silk, somewhat like all over embroidery or lace, which are used over colored goods very effectively. Today's sketch shows a spring costume having a hazel brown skirt of voiling, which is trimmed near the foot by two ruffles of black satin ribbon arranged in ruffles. The figure of the same material

In Doubt.

A certain minister, who is not always so careful as he ought to be in making his teaching and his practice correspond, was lately telling some friends a story of adventure. It was a pretty "tall" story, and the minister's 10-year-old little girl was observed to be listening to it very intently. When he finished, she fastened her wide open eyes upon her father's face and said very gravely, "Is that true, or are you preaching now, papa?"—Household Words.

SLOW TO SPEAK.

PINGREE EXPLAINS.

He Claims He Will Not Bolt the Party.

Governor Pingree now issues a manifesto or an explanation every day.

Yesterday the governor said he had heard that republican leaders had an idea that his public address last Wednesday meant that he had bolted or contemplated bolting the republican party. He added:

"Because I said I am a bimetalist and that I did not believe the republican party can win another national victory on a single gold standard they charge me with being a bolter. Where do they get license to put such a construction on what I said, and why are they making so much of it just at this time?"

"I have said repeatedly in the past that I was a bimetalist, and the newspapers printed my words. When I saw McKinley, shortly after election last November, I told him the same thing if I remember correctly, and he did not deny that a bimetallic policy is the best one for the party in the future. McKinley is a better bimetalist today than I am. He has done more than I ever did to promote the cause of bimetalism, for he has had a better opportunity to do so, yet nobody calls him a bolter. I stand to-day squarely on the financial plank of the platform adopted at the republican national convention at Minneapolis in 1892. That plank was then believed by most of the national leaders of the party to be the best for the country and the party that could be constructed. I believe so still. I have never changed my views. They ask me why I didn't repudiate the St. Louis gold plank last summer. I'll ask them why hundreds of the most prominent men in the party all over the country didn't do so. They were just as pronounced bimetalists as I was, and they are still bimetalists. I could make a pretty list of republicans right here in Michigan who didn't like the gold platform any better than I."

Nature is sometimes slow to speak when her laws are transgressed. One does not feel the effects of little bad habits at the first, but the system will in time rebel against these abuses. As rust eats away the hardest steel, so do the poisons in tobacco, morphine, tea, coffee, chocolate and cocoa eventually undermine the strongest system. Nature is slow to resent the use of these drugs, but when she rebels it is in Paralysis, Paresis, Nervous Prostration, Dyspepsia, Etc.
